

Teacher Allocations and Redeployment Panels at primary level 2014/15 school year

Position @ 02 April 2014

Teacher Allocations and redeployment of surplus permanent/CID holding teachers

Department Circular 0007/2014 was published in January 2014 and it set out the staffing arrangements for primary schools for the 2014/15 school year. At this stage, the teacher allocation process is largely finalised for most schools.

The main redeployment panels have now been issued to the relevant Panel Operators. There are currently a total of 181 surplus permanent/CID holding teachers on panels for redeployment to vacancies in other schools.

See the latest summary list for each of the individual redeployment panels. Please note that the next update of this summary list will be published on the Department website on Friday, 11 April 2014.

Further names will be added to these panels and it is anticipated that the overall final total will be in the range of 400 surplus permanent/CID holding teachers. Schools are reminded that the redeployment of all surplus permanent teachers is key to the Department's ability to manage within its payroll budget and ceiling on teacher numbers.

Schools with vacancies are now required to immediately commence the process of filling their vacancies from the list of surplus permanent/CID holding teachers on the redeployment panels. The timeframe for the school led redeployment process is between now and Friday, 2 May 2014.

Given that the teacher allocation process for the 2014/15 school year is largely completed for many primary schools, the target is for the vast bulk of the redeployment of surplus permanent teachers to be done by Friday, 2 May 2014 during the school led process. Throughout the redeployment process the Department will be liaising closely with the Panel Operators in relation to progress on clearing panels in a timely manner. Panel Officers will be appointed after Friday, 2 May 2014. The Panel Officer process will commence with the school of the same patronage that is located nearest to the school with the surplus teacher.

Schools are also reminded that they are not permitted to commence a recruitment process to fill a permanent or fixed term teaching vacancy in any other manner until the Department is satisfied that vacant positions are not required for redeployment of any remaining permanent /CID holding teachers on a main panel. The timing of when teaching vacancies can be filled in any other manner will depend on how quickly permanent/CID holding teachers are redeployed into vacancies. The Department will publish regular panel updates on its website which will inform schools and teachers of progress being made on the redeployment of permanent /CID holding teachers.

Supplementary panels for the 2014/15 school year

Supplementary panels will be circulated at a later stage and will be used to fill remaining permanent vacancies that are not required for the redeployment of surplus permanent/CID holding teachers.

This process will commence when the redeployment process for the surplus permanent/CID holding teachers is concluded.

The Department received over 2,500 applications from fixed-term, part-time and substitute teachers for inclusion on supplementary panels. The Department has completed the initial checking process on these applications and expects to initially place up to 1,800 teachers on the Supplementary Panels.

Teachers who applied for inclusion on the supplementary panels were notified by the Department on 26 March 2014 of the outcome of their applications.

The final position in relation to the numbers on supplementary panels will be known later in April and this will be reflected in a panel update at that stage.
